Compliance-focused Market
Conduct for Property and Casualty Insurance

Effectively manage your compliance risk and increase Market Conduct efficiency with state-specific regulatory insight and comprehensive audit functionality.

The benefits of an effective market conduct program have never been more critical to an insurer's bottom line. Compliance professionals must deal with over 30,000 (and growing) countrywide requirements that govern property/casualty market conduct. The market conduct examination process is complex, time consuming and costly.

Available for Property and Casualty and Workers' Compensation insurance, NILS MCE for P&C delivers an easy-to-use market conduct research tool helping insurers research prior market conduct exam reports and enforcement orders, prepare and respond to current examinations, and maintain compliance with market conduct requirements.

Supported by our team of experts who understand the insurance industry, NILS solutions combine proven technology, regulatory content and the expertise of Wolters Kluwer Financial Services. NILS provides regulatory intelligence and research unique and critical to the business of insurance, ensuring that users get the focused content needed for efficient research and effective compliance.

- Assess market conduct compliance requirements through targeted searches by state, lines of business, and market conduct topics.
- Easily locate criticisms and actions (exam reports and orders) by date or keyword for a given time period, and determine what topics have appeared in actual criticisms or exams.
- Perform internal compliance self-audits to address specific regulatory/enforcement issues. Conduct legal research and prepare for new product launches.
- Effectively manage exams by identifying areas of concern. Understand how regulators have treated issues and enforcement orders to prepare responses to findings.
- Prioritize compliance efforts and educate staff on key issues and trends.

With nationwide coverage and easy web-based access, NILS MCE for P&C increases the effectiveness of staff by making comprehensive compliance risk and market conduct data easily accessible.

- Powerful search options allow professionals to quickly locate detailed requirements by jurisdiction, date range or keyword. Search by Topic, Market Conduct Search, Reference Number, State, Word, Easy Audit and NAIC Standards.
- State market conduct criticisms and actions relating to requirements help identify compliance issues most often published by state examiners, including links to the appropriate citation or action.
- Citations organize content by state, line of business, categories, compliance issues and details, including the complete citation text.
- Comprehensive reports are easily exportable for criticisms or actions activity by date range for one or multiple states.
- Expert analysis provides insight on how examiners may apply market conduct requirements.

NILS is supported by a team of experts including industry professionals, insurance attorneys, and former insurance regulators as the industry-leading provider of Market Conduct research tools.
