

STATE-BY-STATE REQUIREMENTS FOR VOLUNTARY WITHDRAWAL OF FOREIGN CORPORATIONS AND LLCs
from CT Corporation

When a corporation or LLC does business in a state other than its state of formation (known as a foreign state), it is required to qualify to do business in that state. When it stops doing business in a state in which it had qualified, it can withdraw from that state. Although it is not required to withdraw, it is to the benefit of the corporation or LLC to do so. Until it formally withdraws, a corporation or LLC remains subject to the foreign state's annual report, franchise tax, and other compliance obligations. If it fails to comply, it will be subject to monetary penalties which the states can seek to collect.

With that warning in mind, the chart below lists the document to be filed to withdraw from a state. It also states whether a tax clearance is required. A tax clearance is evidence issued by the state's taxation department that the corporation or LLC does not owe the state taxes. (A "No" in that column does not mean that the corporation or LLC doesn't have to be up to date in its tax and reporting—only that a document evidencing that fact is not required to be filed.)

This chart covers voluntary withdrawal filings only. Involuntary withdrawals—such as where a state revokes the authority of a corporation or LLC to do business, or because it is ceasing to exist as an entity—is not covered.
