International Arbitration in the Netherlands, with a Commentary on the NAI and PCA Arbitration Rules

By Albert Marsman

The Netherlands, long known for its encouragement and facilitation of arbitration as a forum for the resolution of international disputes, frequently draws multinational corporations, States, and international organizations from all parts of the world for the conduct of international arbitration. Over the past decades, several of the world's largest international arbitrations have been seated in the Netherlands, including numerous investment arbitrations under the auspices of the Permanent Court of Arbitration (PCA) in The Hague. This book, written by a highly experienced international arbitration counsel with extensive input from members of the author's firm, is the most detailed English-language commentary and analysis on how international arbitrations seated in the Netherlands proceed under the most commonly used sets of arbitration rules and contrasts the conduct of international arbitrations in the Netherlands with that in other jurisdictions.

International Arbitration in Sweden: A Practitioner's Guide, Second Edition

Edited by Annette Magnusson, Jakob Ragnwaldh, Martin Wallin

International Arbitration in Sweden, now in its second edition, is a compendious book penned by sixteen eminent practitioners that furnishes a practical guide to international arbitration in Sweden, whether ad hoc or institutional. Sweden is one of a handful of countries where the international arbitral process has reached a stage where the jurisprudence is replete with instances involving no local parties at all. In this context of credible neutrality, the Arbitration Institute of the Stockholm Chamber of Commerce (SCC) has emerged as a leading global arbitral institution. Whether the matter at issue is a business transaction dispute or a politicized conflict involving obdurate parties, the richness of its body of decided cases manifests the SCC's authority and reliability throughout the converging world of international arbitration.

Arbitration in India

Edited by Dushyant Dave, Martin Hunter, Fali Nariman, Marike Paulsson

Arbitration in India is a complete treatise – first of its kind, from the formation of the arbitration agreement in India to the enforcement of domestic and international awards – that aims to provide an up-to-date analysis of arbitration in India for those foreign counsels and arbitrators who have arbitrations in India and for Indian local counsel to understand the effects of international arbitration. India has a long-standing tradition of dispute resolution through arbitration, with arbitral-type regulations going back to the eighteenth century. Today, amendments to the 1996 Indian Arbitration Act, a steady evolution of case law and new arbitral institutions position India's vibrant system once more at the forefront of international commercial dispute resolution. International arbitration practitioners, Indian practitioners, and scholars have combined efforts to produce a practical and informative guide on the subject.

EU Cross-Border Commercial Mediation: Listening to Disputants - Changing the Frame; Framing the Changes

By Anna Howard

EU Cross-Border Commercial Mediation is a book which focuses on the European Union's (EU's) continued efforts to encourage the use of cross-border mediation and examines why such efforts have had a limited impact. It does so by drawing on rare, and at times surprising, detailed insights from the in-house counsel of multinational companies regarding their use of EU cross-border commercial mediation. By viewing mediation through the disputants' perspective, new and important findings regarding why disputants do, and do not, use cross-border mediation have emerged. While these findings are of primary relevance to EU policy and practice, they have implications far beyond the EU context at a time of increasing international interest in cross-border mediation.
