

Get More Done With One
RBSource®

The completely redesigned RBSource® is a comprehensive web-based SEC research tool powered by the Securities Act Handbook (Securities Redbook), that intelligently integrates statutes, rules, regulations, forms, and key SEC guidance into one easy to use interface.

- One View Access — Integrated, related content from rules, regulations, forms, and SEC Guidance always in view.
- Curated content — Editorial notes from our attorney editors provide vital background to changes in law, including links to related releases and implementation dates.
- Ease of Use — Search using plain English, Boolean, or by citation. Browse by document types including laws, rules, regulations, or by topics or favorites.
- Stay Current — See what has changed using New and Updated Content, right from the home page. Email alerts can also be placed on rules, regulations, and forms.
- Personalization — Insert personal notes and highlights, and create favorites to quickly take you to frequently referenced content.
- Productivity Tools — Print, email, history, personal notes and highlights, worklist, and save capabilities enable you to manage your research and access previous search results.
- Portability and Anytime Access — Accessible via the web, you can take your “Redbook/Redbox” with you wherever you go. An exclusive Red Box Download feature allows subscribers to create PDF copies of individual pamphlets for offline reading.

“For its content, RBSource is the best product I’ve seen on the market. It’s everything the Redbook was, in a more intuitive, accessible, and more readily searchable format.”

New intuitive browse feature organizes the Rules, Regulations, and Forms under their enabling Statutes for fast access. The REGULATIONS tab shows all those that relate to more than one Act.

Red Box Download: Easily select pamphlets from the Red Box publication to download and read offline on any device.

Browse or filter searches by document types or topics for fast access to critical content that aligns with the way you research.

NEW & UPDATED CONTENT feature allows you to see what has changed right from the home page.
