

Ethics statement

The Journal of Health, Safety and Environment requires the following statement to be included in any submission involving human or animal subjects:

“Ethics statement

The authors of this paper state that research involving human or animal subjects was conducted with due regard to relevant ethical standards and guidelines.”